John Wallace's Body.— Reports from West Alexander indicate that the body, at least, of the lynched Wetzel county murderer, is marching on. All that was left of the murderer, after Judge Lynch's court had adjourned, was taken to West Alexander, Pa., and there interred in a remote corner of a quiet country cemetery. But even in this obscure spot, to which the old man Wallace was driven by public sentiment with the corse of his guilty son, the body of the murderer was not permitted to remain. The discovery not permitted to remain. The discovery has been opened and the coffin and body removed. It is evident that the resurremoved. It is evaluated to cover up rectionists made no attempt to cover up traces of their work, as the dirt was lef piled about the brink of the empty piled about the brink of the empty chasm. Of course there is no clue to the "body snatchers"—there seldom is; and the peaceful hamlet of West Alexander is rife with speculations as to the identi-ty of the grave-robbers. The popular opin-ion seems to be, however, that the body was taken from the grave by enterprising medical students, and has ere this been elaborately discussed over a dissection table.

TRIEVING IN EAST WHERLING.—Early on yesterday morning a large plate glass window in the fanoy grocery of Mr. Chris. Floto, on the south side of 16th street, between Eoff and Jacob, was broken, and a quantity of pickles, chow-chow, oranges and candles taken from the shelves. Mr. Floto was alarmed by the crash, as was also Mr. Luther Rice, who resides near by, and both started for the store. Mr. Rice was the first to appear upon the street, and noticed a man leaving the vicinity with an assortment of fancy groceries in his arms. The fellow stopped when he saw Mr. Rice, and threw a jar of pickles at him, which fortunately fell with a store of the store. Mr. Floto, upon discovering what had happened, proceeded immediately to the city building, where he met Officer Henry just starting for Reymann's brewery, whither he had been summoned by a message over the American district telegraph wires to arrest a chap who had been getting away with some beer. After hearing Mr. Flotos story the officer went out to the brewery and learned that a young fellow had stolen three kegs of beer from a wagon which stood in front of the brewery, about half-past four o'clock in the morning.

While Officer Henry and Mr. Reymann were conversing upon the subject, one Christy Farley, who has long been sus-o'clock in the morning.

While Officer Henry and Mr. Reymann were conversing upon the subject, one Christy Farley, who has long been suspected of knowing something of the petty thieving frequently reported from East Wheeling, passed by Immediately on noticing the officer's presence he took to his heels and ran at full speed up the hill, and was soon after captured in the Central Glass Works coal bank.

No doubt whatever seems to be entertained of Farley's guilt. Several places where he is known to pass a great portion of his time were visited by the officers yesterday, and remmants of the atolen goods were discovered. It is evident that he first broke open the office of the Eim Grove street railway and obtained a shovel, with which he broke the heavy plate glass in Floto's window. This glass, by the way, is quite valuable, having cost in the neighborhood of $80.

Farley was taken to the county jail and locked up for a preliminary bearing, which will be given him this afternoon at 2 o'clock before Justice Caldwell.

Amusements—Rignold.—This famous actor and his remarkable combination will undoubtedly have the largest houses of the season on Monday and Tuesday nights next at the Opera House. In order to accommedate the large number of persons who have requested an excursion from Steubenville, Wellsburg and intervening towns on the P. W. & K., one has been arranged for Monday night, and the rates will be made very low, including admission to the Opera House. Like arrangements will be made with towns on other roads. It should be remembered to the credit of the management that notwithstanding the enormous expense attendant upen the engagement of this combination, the largest that has ever visited this city, embracing 42 first—clars artists, 100 auxiliaries, soenery, etc., the prices of admission will not be raised. Seats will be sold at Adams & Lucas' on Friday moroing.

Bryant's Minstrels.—This splendid combination of star artists give the finest minstrel performance of any company in existence. They are sure of having crowded houses on Friday and Saturday night and Saturday matinee. An excursion train has been arranged for Saturday night from Wellsburg and intervening points. The rates will be very low, and weexpect to see at least half of Wellsburg here on that occasion. The matinee will afford a splendid opportunity for the ladies and children to witness this magnificent company, which the New*York Tribune says "is unequalled."

THE GREAT EUROPEAN 7-ELEPHANT RAILBOAD SHOW AT WHEELING.—As announced in the advertisement elsewhere, there will come rushing into Wheeling by its own monster special excursion trains, on Tuesday, the 30th inst., Sells' Bros. Great European 7-Elephant Railroad Exposition, a combination of antipodal and arenic novelties, without a parallel in magnitude and interest. Whatever most tent exhibitions advertise as rare features with it sink into merely ordinarily attractions, while, on the other hand, it presents many new and really rare reatures with it saik into merely ordinarily attractions, while, on the other hand, it presents many new and really astonishing animals, ideas and acts, proving both the superiority of its enterprise and resources, and that there is, after all, really something new under the arenic sun. In elephants it is indeed elephantine, presenting seven in its grand procession alone, with the extraordinary spectacle of one standing high in the air upon a massive tableau car and drawn by six of his species in gilded harness. Then there is a pair of genuine Twin Baby Elephants, less than a year old, and seen publicly taking to their pap bottles in the ring. Nothing like this has ever before been placed on exhibition, and it is really more than a fifty cent show alone. Then, again, five performing baby Elephants introduced altogether and simultaneously participating in an old programms of participating in an odd programme of funny feats and intelligent tricks. The

In the great separate circus tent emi nent artists and astonishingly accomplish-ed animals present a brilliant succession of wonderful feats and imitations, from or woncerior reats and imitations, from the somersaults of the great bareback rider, Fred. Barclay, to the clowning of Cobb's convolsing dogs.

The question really seems to be not who is coming to the greatest show on earth, but who can be left at home.

THERE was a very enthusiastic temperance meeting at Parker's Hall last night. The meeting was opened by President J. M. Richards reading a portion of Scripture and prayer. Addresses were made by Miss Taylor, Miss Capitola Marshall, John Westwood, Captain Baggs and B. F. Porter. METHUSALEH may have been a young man when our shaving joke first saw light, as suggested by our evening co-temporary, but that does not excuse the willight man from resurrecting Charley Stowe's joke on Spivins, which was a nursery tale in the paleozoic age.

One of the Wonners of the Bethesda Spring Water is known in all civilized countries, and it embraces in its blessings thousands who never expect to see the grassy banks and romatic hills. blessings thousands who never expect to been the greasy banks and romatic hills and vales which surround the sparkling fountain. The most unqualified praise of its healing properties is everywhere rendered. It has taken rank as one of the wooders of the world; the subtle power for good contained in the mild, sweet draught is beyond the reason of the scientist and only finds explanation as one of God's innumerable blessings. Bethesda's victories in the past have been but nominal compared with those awaiting in the future. It is rapidly approaching recognition thoroughout the world as the greatest panacea for Bright's disease, disbetes and all effections of the Kidneys and Bladder. To its virtues thousands owe life and health. Bethesda can be obtained of Josheph Fleming, 84 Market street, Pittsburgh, Pa. general agent for Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.
